LRRP 50 METER TACTICAL THREE BG'S AND TWO
HOSTAGES (5RND)
COURSE OF FIRE FOUR

Code: 50M- TAC002

This course of fire is derived from a SoCal course and modified by and modified by PTRA the predecessor of LRRP. For more information on this type of shooting discipline please refer to www.6mibr.com or www.snipershide (forum – go to rimfire section)

BASIC MATCH GUIDELINES:

- .22 LR Rimfire only (Sub-sonics, SV, HV – all only with lead bullets allowed)
- Any rifle allowed (conversions allowed), any optic / sighting system.
- Front support from bipod, pack or other similar "field front rests" allowed. Use of benchrest or "lead sled" styled vices or rests prohibited. Rear support not allowed.
- Slings optional but only simple slings allowed depending on stage if allowed.
- No shooting jackets or artificial supports allowed. Palm rests prohibited. Only regular gloves allowed – no shooting gloves, No butt hooks allowed, adjustable butts must be centered and taped. Adjustable cheek pieces must be adjusted and taped (no adjustment during the whole tournament). Elbow and knee pads allowed. Simple shooting mats allowed (blankets, exercise mats – nothing to artificially stabilize the rifle). Spotting scopes not allowed on firing line.
- Any shots over the time limit – minus highest score for the stage per late shot.
- Xs have no bearing, all ties must be a shoot out.
- Best edge scoring will apply - touch or break a line, it counts as a hit.

Match Rules:

1. To be taken behind a wall with two possible windows/ports (high and low)
Choose a window/port and in one minute take out the BGs (bad guys). 5 shots in one minute
2. Distance: 50 Meters
3. No slings allowed
4. Any hostage hit is minus 20 points – lowest possible score is a zero. Highest possible is 150 points.
5. You can hit a BG and at the same time hit a hostage so score for that hit is the BG score minus the hostage penalty of 20.
